...but the present town of Astoria was laid out in 1836. Owing to the fact that the name Astoria had already been used for a town in the State of Illinois, Astoria was changed to Astoria, Oregon. The name Astoria was given to the town by special charter granted prior to 1872. It is said, from that time, that John Jacob Astor, the famous fur trader, bought pelts along the Pacific coast, and he is said to have bought land in this county.
